Title: “Research Based Strategies for Classroom and Behavior Management” with Kurt Brown

CRN: 30241  Course #: EDUC 5305-03  Instructor: Valerie Brown-Kuchera

Dates: 5/20/2016 (8:30 am-3:30 pm)  Credits: 1  Grade Levels: ALL

Location: NKESC  703 W. 2nd St. Oakley, KS 67748

Delivery: On-Ground  Tuition: $85  Instructor Fee: N/A

This workshop will provide teachers with a variety of strategies for handling problem behaviors in the classroom. Strategies are based on Randy Sprick’s CHAMPS program and his Teacher’s Encyclopedia of Behavior Management. Teachers will learn how to: improve classroom behavior (on-task, work completion, cooperation), establish clear classroom behavior expectations with logical and fair responses to misbehavior, motivate students to put forth their best efforts (perseverance, pride in work), reduce misbehavior (disruptions, disrespect, noncompliance), increase academic engagement, resulting in improved test scores, spend less time disciplining students and more time teaching them, teach students to behave respectfully and to value diversity, thereby reducing cultural differences that may manifest as misbehavior, feel empowered and happy to be in the classroom, develop a common language about behaviors among all staff, create a plan for orienting and supporting new staff, and reduce staff burnout. This workshop will meet at Northwest Kansas Educational Service Center, 703 West 2nd Street, Oakley, KS 67748.

Title: Taking a Closer Look at Close Reading

CRN: 30052  Course #: LART 2777-01  Instructor: Cheryl Germann

Dates: 6/1/2016-6/2/2016 (9:00 am-4:30 pm)  Credits: 1  Grade Levels: 4-12

Location: Friends University, BTB 221  2100 W. University Ave. Wichita, KS 67213

Delivery: On-Ground  Tuition: $150  Instructor Fee: N/A

Close reading. It seems to be the common core buzz word. But what is it, really? Where did it come from? How can I implement it in my curriculum? And how on Earth do I get my students to actually do it? This workshop will not only help you answer these questions, but will also provide you with strategies and lessons you can implement immediately to effectively facilitate close reading in your classroom. Bring at least two pieces of each fiction, non-fiction, and poetry that you currently use (or would like to use in the future) and develop lessons that effectively utilize close reading to aid in the achievement of many different common core standards and foster student thinking and learning. Be sure to bring your ELA standards too!

Title: Making The Grade... With Effective Grading Practices

CRN: 30068 Course #: EDUC 5327-02 Instructor: Lori Gunzelman

Dates: 6/1/2016 (9:00 am-4:30 pm)-6/19/2016 Credits: 2 Grade Levels: ALL
Location: Friends University, BTB Lab 7 Delivery: Blended Tuition: $300

2100 W. University Ave. Wichita, KS 67213 Instructor Fee: N/A

What should a grade represent? What does research say about effective grading practices? How can teachers and schools implement suggested practices to better report student learning? Grading is one of the most complex components in the classroom, yet is often overlooked. There is no simple solution that will work in every setting, but effective practice suggestions can be used to guide teachers and schools in developing grading policies. This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site one time and work the remainder of the time using Moodle. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. In this blended class, participants and facilitator will collaborate to study effective grading practices through research and discussion. Day one (on campus) will begin with discussions and activities about what a grade should and shouldn’t represent, the subjective nature of grading, and looking at effective practice suggestions. Participants will then continue their learning online (off campus) that include flexibility to tailor their experiences to their individual settings. Participants need to bring earphones for day one (on campus) and have internet access for the remainder of online course requirements. Enrollment closes prior to start date to allow time to establish Moodle accounts.

Title: Earth Partnership for Schools Summer Institute

CRN: 30017  Course #: SCIE 2410-05  Instructor: Brad Guhr
Dates: 6/6/2016-6/10/2016 (8:30 am-5:00 pm)  Credits: 3  Grade Levels: K-12
Location: Dyck Arboretum of the Plains  Delivery: On-Ground  Tuition: $255

The goals of the EPS workshop are to instruct teachers in the knowledge of how to implement a prairie restoration from conception to completion and, then, utilize and monitor the restoration. These goals will be accomplished by engaging teachers in activities that will instruct them in the background knowledge of prairies and their environment, basic restoration ecology, planning student activities around Kansas’ curriculum standards, and the different resources available for ecological restorations. By achieving these goals, teachers will be empowered with teaching methods and a curriculum to engage their students in hands-on, outdoor education that stimulates multiple intelligences and extends student learning. You must fill out a Dyck Arboretum workshop application at the following link (http://dyckarboretum.org/earth-partnership-for-schools/) in addition to enrolling with Friends. All participants will need sun block, bug repellant, rainy weather gear, a backpack or book bag, writing utensil, notepad, and a copy of Richard Louv’s Last Child in the Woods. Wear comfortable clothing for outdoor and indoor activities (e.g. long pants, long-sleeved shirt, hat, sturdy shoes or boots). Optional items to bring include a compass, binoculars, camera, a copy of your school’s mission statement to reference during the week’s planning sessions, and a map/aerial photograph of our school grounds. Final assignment is due June 24, 2016. This workshop will meet at Dyck Arboretum of the Plains, 177 W. Hickory, Hesston, KS 67062.

The most important factor affecting student learning isn’t standards, textbooks, or testing. It’s teachers. And when it comes to improving learning, research has shown teachers what works. But the real challenge comes when it’s time to do what works and do it well. In this class, we will focus on the following topics. Create a classroom curriculum document that’s truly useful and incorporates robust concepts, generalizations, and procedures. Plan instruction that’s focused on helping students become master learners who can apply information and skills, not just do schoolwork. Design varied classroom assessments that yield evidence of mastery and pinpoint where further instruction is required. Use criterion-based feedback to improve individual student achievement and refine instruction. Along with step-by-step procedures, practical guidelines, and specific models, this class will look at effective practices used by previous teachers. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. We will be using the book, Improving Student Learning by Jane Pollack as our guide. This workshop is open to all K-12 Educators. Students will need writing materials and the capability of printing off articles. An additional fee of $40 per credit hour, payable by check to Jon Maska, is due the first day of class. A $10 ebook fee is also to be included with the instructor fee. For complete listings and details, visit workshopswithjon.com.

Using imaginative journeys, bodily-kinesthetic cues, posters, drama, and dances are just a few of the many strategies you’ll learn for empowering kids labeled with ADD/ADHD. Instead of looking at students who carry the ADD/ADHD label as having a “deficit,” consider a more holistic view that validates these learners for who they are and includes teaching using various approaches, including multiple intelligences, learning styles, and other brain-friendly ways. In this class, we will be using two book as our guide. Book One, Joey Pigza Swallowed a Key, will give fresh and exciting insight to the world of ADD and ADHD from the student’s perspective. Book Two, ADD/ADHD Alternatives in the Classroom, will guide us in how to connect and teach children with ADD and ADHD. This workshop is open to all K-12 Educators. This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site for the following dates: 6/13 and 6/14. The remainder of the work will be done using Moodle. Interested in tools for applied learning in order to meet Kansas College and Career Ready education standards? Try project-based learning using plants as a tool to teach core curriculum standards for math, language arts, social studies and science. Experiential learning laboratories are provided for teachers to practice lessons plans. Instruction from professors will give teachers background information that will assist them in teaching students about horticulture and crop plants and to apply principles of soil and plant science. Math will be taught through germination studies and plant growth measurement. Social Studies will be taught as participants discover where plants grow in Kansas and the significance of crops to Kansas History and Economics. Literature will be discussed using some well known children’s books and their connections to learning about plants. Methods of growing plants indoors as well as through winter months will be discussed. Careers in Agriculture will also be highlighted. WORKSHOP FULL! Teachers, when you wake up in the morning, would you describe yourself as fully charged? If you’re like many people recently surveyed, chances are you’re shaking your head and instead feel more like you’re struggling at times, not to mention in the afternoon at school. For example, when more than 10,000 people were recently surveyed, only 11% reported having a great deal of energy. But studies suggest that when you’re fully charged, you have better interactions and your mind is sharp, your body is strong and you get more done, which is so vital as a teacher. You experience higher levels of engagement and well-being that can create an upward spiral of success for the things that matter to you most in your life. Explore the many ideas from research on well-being, insights from the best selling author Tom Rath’s and other resources that would help as us teachers on the journey of being a fully charged teacher.

Title: Sizing Up Your Teaching
CRN: 30229    Course #: EDUC 5376-01    Instructors: Jon Maska & David VanThullenar
Dates: 6/20/2016 (8:00 am-5:00 pm)-6/24/2016
Location: 12080 S. Strang Line Rd.
Olathe, KS 66062
Enrollment Ends: 6/30/2016

There’s no way to boil everything teachers must do in the classroom down to simple, step-by-step directions. But some days, there’s so much going on in schools and classrooms, it’s tough to focus on the big things that absolutely, positively must get done. Here’s help. Find out how a simple, practical checklist-distilled from thousands of research reports, books, and articles-can help you cut through the clutter of information and make more deliberate, thoughtful decisions in your everyday practice. In Sizing Up Your Teaching, educators can use the same old tool to take the right actions and engage in more thoughtful behaviors. We will be using the book, “Touchstones of Good Teaching,” as our guide.

This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site one time while the remainder of the work will be done using Moodle. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. An additional fee of $40 per credit hour, payable by check to Jon Maska, is due the first day of class. For complete listings and details, visit workshopswithjon.com.

Enrollment Ends: 6/15/2016

The world of education is constantly changing with many offering advice for what is best for our students. As teachers and administrators, it is important to be aware of the new and continuing issues in education and how they affect the classroom and students. This workshop will look at the various hot topics in education from technology, safety and security, teacher evaluations, common core state standards and assessments, and other issues and discuss the impact on the students and educators. Participants will be actively researching, discussing, utilizing resources, and creating action plans to continue to do what is best for students during these changing times. This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site one time and work the remainder of the time using Moodle. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. Weekly assignments will be completed online. Course ends July 11th. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/frequently-asked-questions-2. Enrollment closes prior to start date to allow time to establish Moodle accounts.

You asked for more, so here it is! The emphasis of this workshop is the well-being of the teacher. It offers ideas and techniques for supporting the teacher’s diverse professional roles and daily responsibilities, as well as affirming the human being who is doing the teaching. It encompasses four overlapping goals: recognizing crises and threats to safety and identifying realistic options and responses; constructing methods for sustaining wellness, based on current research and tested strategies; appreciating and identifying the healing strengths of the body and the soul; managing internal, external, and circumstantial stressors effectively. In order to thrive, we must first survive. Dress comfortably to allow for light movement. You may take this course if you have not yet taken Survival Kit- Chapter 1.

Title: KAEA Summer Camp 2016
CRN: 30238          Course #: ART 2282-01          Instructor: Shawny Montgomery
Dates: 6/23/2016-6/24/2016 (8:00 am-5:00 pm)
Location: Newton, KS

The KAEA Summer Camp will host a variety of art education workshops. Students will preregister for the individual workshops they plan to attend for the duration of the conference. Enrolled students will keep a record of the workshops they attend as well as a copy of the notes they acquired throughout their conference experience. These documents will be shared with the instructor of record for this course. Upon completion of full attendance of the conference, enrolled students will demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of a learned art concept by completing a well-developed lesson plan and rubric inspired by one or more of the conference workshops. They will also create an art exemplar to illustrate the lesson plan project and mastery of their newly acquired art skills. This workshop audience is open only to members of the Kansas Art Education Association.

Title: The Art of Paper
CRN: 30193          Course #: ART 2270-02          Instructor: Shawny Montgomery
Dates: 6/27/2016-6/28/2016 (9:00 am-4:30 pm)
Location: Friends University, ART 116

Ready to get down and dirty with a hands-on workshop and get students totally engaged in the process? Learn to change the surface of paper in a variety of artistic ways such as: marbleizing, dyeing, paste paper, and bubbles. We will then turn the art paper into a variety of projects that are in line with common core standards. We will be creating polyhedrons, volumetric forms, journals, and sculptural books. This is designed to be a hands-on class and you will have a variety of projects to take home to share with your students. This class can be used cross-curricular and ideas can be used to integrate the visual arts and project-based learning in your classroom. The instructor will help you accommodate lesson ideas into your specific content area needs. A $15 materials fee payable to the instructor is due on the first day of class. Items to bring to class include 9”x 12” or larger Watercolor paper (Cold press student grade is fine), 2 cans of inexpensive shaving cream, scissors, watercolors, colored pencils, sharpie markers, and an Xacto knife.

ALMOST FULL! Teachers, when you wake up in the morning, would you describe yourself as fully charged? If you’re like many people recently surveyed, chances are you’re shaking your head and instead feel more like you’re struggling at times, not to mention in the afternoon at school. For example, when more than 10,000 people were recently surveyed, only 11% reported having a great deal of energy. But studies suggest that when you’re fully charged, you have better interactions and your mind is sharp, your body is strong and you get more done, which is so vital as a teacher. You experience higher levels of engagement and well-being that can create an upward spiral of success for the things that matter to you most in your life. Come and explore with Ruth the many ideas from research on well-being and some insights from the best selling author Tom Rath’s and other resources that would help us teachers on the journey of being a fully charged teacher.

The adoption and implementation of Common Core standards has created a need for new approaches to teaching and assessment. The key to assessing progress toward meeting Common Core standards in the classroom is to set student learning objectives at higher levels of cognition. Let’s share ideas on how that might be done in YOUR classroom. You must have access to a computer and the Internet. Minimal technology skills in accessing the Internet, word processing and submitting assignments online are required. This course does not require advanced technology skill. Workshop Full! Do you sometimes “teach” a lesson but your students don’t retain the information in the long-term? Are you looking for ways to engage your students and to make your classroom a more dynamic learning environment? Do you find yourself stuck in a “teaching rut” and are ready for some new ideas? If so, come learn about what brain researchers have discovered that teachers can immediately put to use in their classroom to help students retain information, create a dynamic learning environment, and motivate yourself at the same time! Participants are encouraged to bring a laptop to class and will be asked to share ideas for implementing brain-based strategies during the second class session. Handouts and materials will be provided.

Imagine that stones become knives and axes; deer bones become hair ornaments; willow bark becomes string. That was reality for prehistoric Kansans. During this workshop learn about and actually use prehistoric tools they used for hunting, fishing and cooking and make your own objects to take home. Participants will develop skills that can be used in lesson planning. The final project consists of creating a program manual on primitive technology that can be used in the classroom that teaches students how to make their own tools using primitive skills in a school setting. While much of the emphasis in teaching is on academics, teachers must realize the importance of creating an environment for success. In Creating Caring Classrooms, we will focus on CCT (Culture, Character, and Tolerance). Creating a foundation for a successful environment starts with understanding the culture of the students. Once the teachers have a basic knowledge of their student culture, they can build on character and tolerance through their everyday lessons. Teachers who implement these strategies will definitely see growth in all areas of the classroom, academics included. This workshop is open to all K-12 Educators. This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site for the following dates: 7/11 and 7/12. The remainder of the work will be done using Moodle. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. An additional fee of $40 per credit hour, payable by check to Jon Maska, is due the first day of class. Why teach a dozen words when you can teach thousands and thousands of words while enriching the vocabulary of students in your elementary building? This two-day workshop will provide the latest research on strategies, ideas, and resources for teaching Greek and Latin roots to help learners develop vocabulary, improve comprehension, and ultimately read more effectively. We will discover how Greek and Latin prefixes, suffixes, and bases enhance instruction, exploring innovative approaches to empower student learning and foster a Common Core culture by focusing on these word structures. As technology and science progress, new words are coined by combining roots from these two languages more than any other. Interpreting the meanings of these roots aids students in the understanding of new words across all curricular areas. Many of the strategies used in this workshop are based upon the research of Dr. Robert Marzano. Participants will leave this workshop with creative approaches for deepening their students’ vocabulary endeavors in their own schools and with avenues for helping students reach greater reading comprehension and fluency using word roots.

ALMOST FULL! Teachers, when you wake up in the morning, would you describe yourself as fully charged? If you’re like many people recently surveyed, chances are you’re shaking your head and instead feel more like you’re struggling at times, not to mention in the afternoon at school. For example, when more than 10,000 people were recently surveyed, only 11% reported having a great deal of energy. But studies suggest that when you’re fully charged, you have better interactions and your mind is sharp, your body is strong and you get more done, which is so vital as a teacher. You experience higher levels of engagement and well-being that can create an upward spiral of success for the things that matter to you most in your life. Come and explore with Ruth the many ideas from research on well-being and some insights from the best selling author Tom Rath’s and other resources that would help as us teachers on the journey of being a fully charged teacher.

Learn how to use and create a variety of interactive notebooks in your classroom. Interactive notebooks integrate writing across the content areas and they encourage students to become active participants in their learning while communicating their understanding. Teachers are able to use the notebooks to catch misconceptions, track student reasoning, support differentiated learning, and guide instruction. We will examine a variety of interactive notebooks for several content areas and grade levels. You will leave with several activities completed and many ideas to create interactive notebooks to use in your classroom. This course is a blended class; participants will meet on site one time and work the remainder of the time using Moodle. Additional computer requirements may be found at: www.friends.edu/technology/. Title: KAIRS Summer 2016 Follow-Up

CRN: 30267
Course #: EDUC 5386-01
Instructor: Dona Gibson

Dates: 8/3/2016-8/14/2016
Location: Cosmosphere
1100 N. Plum St. Hutchinson, KS 67501

Those who are fortunate enough to attend the KAIRS K-12 Teachers Conference Summer 2016 will likely discover a whole new inspiration for teaching as well as several new resources for acting on this new inspiration. You will be offered one hour of credit for writing a thoughtful reflection of new learning gained from this conference. What new tools and tactics really resounded for you? What ideas have come from your thinking about the need for creativity and how to bring it about? Were you able to borrow any of the tools from Janet Ivey, creator of Janet’s Planet, that you are really excited about using and will likely use? New views of nanotechnology, space exploration, or classroom astronomy? Describe them; put them into words, then action. New approaches to supporting higher-level thinking in your classroom? Share them in writing before you implement them. It’s likely that verbalizing new learning will bring you much closer to actually putting this new inspiration to work in your classroom before it becomes a faded, pleasant memory.

Do you know a student who struggles with literacy? Would you like to help his skills soar? The Take Flight curriculum is designed to do just that. Take Flight is a comprehensive intervention for students with dyslexia and other reading problems. In this two-week course, you will learn how to teach a two-year curriculum written by the staff of the Luke Waites Center for Dyslexia and Learning Disorders at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children. Take Flight builds on the success of the three previous dyslexia intervention programs developed by the staff: TSRHC: Alphabetic Phonics, the Dyslexia Training Program and TSRH Literacy Program. Take Flight provides structured, sequential, explicit, multisensory literacy instruction and is designed for use by parents and educators of children with dyslexia ages 7 and older. Take Flight curriculum covers the five essential areas of literacy instruction identified by the National Reading Panel. Participants will meet July 11-15, July 18-22, September 19-20, December 2, 2016, and February 10, 2017.

Graduate Workshops Registration Information and Policies

All workshops are offered for graduate-level credit and available to educators seeking re-licensure, salary advancement, or professional development opportunities. Graduate students may also select workshops, with advisor consent, for elective options as part of the Master of Education in Teaching and Learning (M.Ed) program.

Payment must be received in correlation with enrollment through Self-Service Banner (SSB) in order to hold a workshop seat! Complete workshop payments must be made two weeks in advance of a start date to avoid a HOLD on an account.

Tuition for workshops is listed individually with the description. Additional fees and or reading material may be required. There are no application fees required to receive graduate credit. Please see the current workshops brochure for details located at www.friends.edu/edworkshops.

Online classes include an additional $30 per credit hour technology fee which is included in the tuition cost listed within the Graduate Workshops brochure. For a description of the minimum system computer requirements needed to take a blended or online workshop, please go to www.friends.edu/technology/.

No Refunds will be issued after the first day of the workshop. If you have enrolled, you will need to drop the course before midnight of the first day of the workshop. Please go to the add/drop section to view instructions on how to drop a workshop. If you do not drop the workshop, it will remain on your official Friends University transcript.

As a courtesy, Graduate Workshops provides a reminder email to enrollees one week prior to a workshop opening. Copies of workshop history, unofficial transcripts, and receipts may be located in your personal Self-Service Banner account. All correspondence occurs within your Friends University email account, and should be viewed regularly. For assistance, contact Help Desk at 316-295-5767 during business hours.

Transcripts:

To receive an official transcript of academic work at Friends University you must turn in a transcript request form. Please visit www.friends.edu/get–transcripts to see our two options. Official transcripts have a fee and must be requested. Upon receipt of your request and payment, an official transcript will be issued. Please make sure that if you have not received a grade for a workshop, to mark the ‘hold for teacher education workshop grades’ under the special instructions and write in the workshop that you are holding if you are doing the written request. If you choose the online request, please select the ‘Hold for semester grades’ and we will hold for any workshops that you are currently enrolled. Please note that if this is not marked, your transcript will be sent out with the class ‘in progress’. It is recommended to view your unofficial transcript through Self-Service Banner prior to requesting an official transcript. For any transcript questions, please contact the University Registrar at 316-295-5400 or email us at transcripts@friends.edu. Transcripts are not released if you have any indebtedness to the University or if there are any other holds placed upon your student record or account. Please check Self-Service Banner for any holds before completing a transcript request.

Transcript Fees:

Online Transcript Request $10 per copy

Please Note: Additional charges may apply to your transcript order and are dependent upon the document destination(s) and the selected delivery method(s)

Paper Transcript Request $10 per copy

For transcript information details, please go to www.friends.edu/transcripts.

Instructions for Registering for Graduate Workshops Online through Self-Service Banner

NOTE: Before registering, make note of the Course Reference Number (CRN) for each of the classes you wish to take. This information is found in the Workshop Schedule Book.

1. On the Friends University web page, hover over the student tab and click on Self-Service Banner. Log into Self-Service Banner.
2. Click on the secure area and log in with your credentials (ID number and pin password).
3. Once logged in, from main menu, choose the STUDENT option.
4. Click REGISTRATION.
5. Click SELECT TERM.
6. From the drop-down menu, choose the semester for which you will be registering. Click Submit. You will be returned to the Registration menu.
7. Click ADD/DROP CLASSES.
8. You will see a Financial Responsibility Agreement that you will want to read and then click on the box next to Electronic Signature to electronically agree to the above.
   • If you are a Master’s student, you will need to contact your advisor or the Registrar’s Office at 316-295-5400 to get your alternate pin number as it will be different each term. If the pin given to you is not working, please call Graduate Workshops at 316-295-5516 to troubleshoot.
9. Enter the CRN(s) for the class(es) for which you want to register. You may enter as many CRN numbers as you would like at this screen. SUBMIT CHANGES.
10. Enter only the start date for each workshop for which you are registered (date(s) found in Workshop Schedule Book. SUBMIT CHANGES.
    • Featured workshops allow 10 days enrollment from start date as mentioned in course descriptions. Please enter the current date within this window when registering if the start date has passed.
11. Congratulations! You are now registered in the workshop. To look at a detail schedule, click on the concise student schedule at the bottom left hand corner of the page.

For any questions about registration or your Self-Service Banner, please contact Graduate Workshops at 316-295-5516 or email us at educationworkshop@friends.edu.

Cancelled Classes:
On rare occasions or due to special circumstances, Graduate Workshops may be cancelled. Cancellations may occur as a result of low enrollment or inclement weather. You will be notified by the University Registrar and Graduate Workshops of a cancellation by email, phone call and Facebook posting on the Teacher Education Workshops Facebook page located at www.facebook.com/FriendsUniversityEdworkshops or Falcon Alert. A full refund will be administered in such circumstances. If you choose to transfer your enrollment and funds to a new workshop, please do so immediately (please refer to the Dropping/Adding Classes section for details on how to proceed). If you decide not to enroll in a new workshop, in two business days, the automatic drop and refund process will begin. Please contact Susie in Student Accounts at 316-295-5912 for details on the refund process.

Workshop Selections:
A course previously taken for credit may not be repeated. Please check with your school’s district administrator or Professional Development Committee (PDC) to ensure workshop selections meet relicensure requirements. If you have questions, feel free to call Graduate Workshops at 316-295-5516.

Name/Address Change:
Students are expected to maintain correct information with the University regarding local residence, permanent mailing address, and email addresses. To report any changes, please contact the Office of the Registrar at 316-295-5400. To report a name change, please send a copy of a government issued document (i.e. Social Security Card, Driver’s License, Marriage Certificate, etc.) to the University Registrar’s Office by either fax – 316-295-5072 – or by email – registrar@friends.edu.

Dropping/Adding Classes:
Students may add/drop workshops at any time during open enrollment periods (prior to start date). A full refund will be issued for any workshop(s) that are dropped, with the understanding that the drop must occur before midnight of the first day of the workshop. If you are transferring to a new workshop, please add your new workshop selection prior to dropping. Your payment will transfer to the new workshop once the original workshop is dropped (as long as the two classes are equivalent in price).

To add/drop a workshop, please follow instructions below:
1. Log in to SSB
2. Click Student
3. Click Registration
4. Click Add or Drop Classes
5. Add your new class
6. Click on the drop down of the class you are wanting to drop and select Drop with 100% Refund
7. Click Submit Changes
8. Confirm your new schedule in SSB

Remember there will be no refunds after midnight on the first day of class. If you feel you have extenuating circumstances which warrant consideration of a refund after the refund date, please notify the Office of the Registrar to complete an Exceptions Request. If the Exception Request is approved, a refund will be issued. If the exception is denied, the student will have ten (10) days to appeal the decision to the Dean of the Graduate School.

*Enrollments occurring after the start date must be entered as current date with a blank end date.
*Payment should be made simultaneously to prevent possible holds on your account.
Administrative Withdrawal:
Friends University may elect to initiate an administrative withdrawal in order to withdraw a student from all classes for any of the following reasons:
1. The student has failed to provide the documentation required by the University in order for the student to achieve full admission status.
2. The student has failed to meet the University's basic standards for academic performance and/or progress.
3. The student is no longer attending any classes.
4. The student has failed to provide documentation requested by the University in order to complete the student’s financial aid file.
5. The student has failed to make payment of tuition and/or fees to the University in the manner, amount and at the time agreed upon between the student and the University's Student Account Services Office.
6. The student has failed to meet the University’s code of conduct or community life standards.
7. The student has failed to demonstrate adequate academic achievement, progress and/or expected minimal performance competency(ies) as determined by the student’s program or major.

Should Friends University elect to initiate an administrative withdrawal, written notification will be sent to the student. The student will have ten (10) business days to appeal any administrative withdrawal. The completion of an administrative withdrawal does not relieve the student from his or her financial obligations to the University. All charges, which are unpaid by the student at the time of administrative withdrawal, will become immediately due and payable. Refunds will be issued and credits applied in accordance with the University’s published refund policy.

NO REFUNDS will be administered to non-degree seeking Workshop students in the case of an administrative withdrawal. Graduate students in the Master of Education in Teaching and Learning and Master of Arts in Christian Ministries program follow the appropriate refund schedule as outlined in the Graduate School schedule book.

Official transcripts will not be issued until any indebtedness to the University has been paid.

Student Withdrawal:
If you chose to withdraw completely from the University (you wish to take zero (0) workshops for that term/semester), students must notify the Office of the University Registrar in order to completely withdraw from all workshops. Students will not be able to completely drop all of their workshops through their Self-Service Banner. Master students in graduate programs must contact their Program Director. The student will fill out a student withdrawal form and the University Registrar will complete the withdrawal process and notify the appropriate departments. Discontinued class attendance does not constitute an official withdrawal. The official withdrawal date will be the date this procedure is initiated. If a student does not attend a workshop, the University may elect to administratively withdraw the student from all coursework/workshops (see Administrative Withdrawal).
